

Charlotte Boyle

Charlotte has recently been appointed Chair of UK for UNHCR, the UK charity partner for the UNHCR. She is a Non-executive Director at Coca Cola HBC AG, the FTSE 100 listed Coca Cola bottler and Capco plc, which owns the Covent Garden estate in central London; and an Adviser to Knight Frank LLP, the global property advisers. She is a Trustee and chair of the Finance Committee at Alfanar, the venture philanthropy organisation.

Charlotte has a particular interest in leadership, talent and succession and community, diversity and inclusion and her Board experience reflects this. She chairs the Remuneration Committee at Coca Cola HBC and the Environment, Sustainability and Community Committee at Capco plc. She is also the Designated Director for the Workforce at Coca Cola HBC and Capco plc

She has a background of more than twenty years in professional services, starting her career with Egon Zehnder International, the global management consulting and leadership firm and then with Goldman Sachs International in London and New York working for its US equities division. She subsequently spent 14 years with The Zygos Partnership, the UK's pre-eminent board and CEO advisory firm, as a Partner advising FTSE 100 and 250 companies on Chief Executive and Chair succession and board effectiveness.

Charlotte has a MA (Hons) from Oxford University and a MBA from London Business School.
